Rock Solid CHURCHES

Jimmy Evans
Founder & CEO of MarriageToday™

We can't ignore the statistics:
Marriages are failing.
In your community, among
your church members,
and even amid your staff
and leadership, marriage is under attack.

Your church can join the fight. MarriageToday is an international ministry committed to giving healing and hope to struggling couples—and our new Rock Solid Church program gives your church an opportunity to help. When your church joins with us at one of five different partnership levels, we'll provide you with a variety of powerful resources, from church curriculum kits to simulcasts, live events, and more.

Launch your own marriage ministry. Becoming a Rock Solid Church is an ideal way to develop a world-class marriage ministry in a short amount of time. Roll out a new ministry with our tools, curriculum and events, or enhance your existing ministry by infusing it with these proven resources.

Minister to your pastors and leaders. We've seen significant struggles in the marriages of pastors and church leaders—you know as well as we do that serving in church leadership can strain even the best relationships. Our resources are not just for your congregation, but for your leaders, too. For instance, our top partnership levels include access to a marriage intensive. These powerful, intimate retreats offer much-needed therapy and healing for marriages in crisis—we've seen intensives save leaders' marriages on a regular basis. By investing in our ministry, you're investing in the marriages of your church staff and membership with specific tools that will minister to their needs.

When you help us, you help others. Partnering with our ministry may also fit your church's mission and/or outreach goals. Our ministry has a worldwide reach (read more about MarriageToday on the next page). We have the solution to the crumbling state of marriage in our culture, and we're working hard to spread that message far and wide. By coming alongside our ministry, you join the vital work of strengthening marriages around the world.

Equip your church with marriage-enriching resources. Help your key leaders and pastors thrive. Join our international work on behalf of marriage.

Become a Rock Solid CHURCH, and let God use your church to build healthy marriages at home and around the world.

ABOUT MarriageToday™

MarriageToday is an international ministry devoted to helping couples thrive in strong, fulfilling marriages and families. Led by founder/CEO Jimmy Evans and his wife, Karen, MarriageToday touches millions of lives every year through online outreach, extensive resources, and its nationally syndicated television program, MarriageToday with Jimmy and Karen, which is broadcast weekly to 90 million homes in America and 200 countries worldwide.

In addition to MarriageToday, Jimmy has been a pastor for over 30 years. He knows firsthand the importance of strong marriages within the Church body—and of the difficulties that result from the combination of marriage and ministry. His passion is personal: Jimmy and Karen barely escaped divorce during the first few years of their own stormy relationship. They know from experience that no marriage is hopeless. Today, after 38 years of marriage and teaching the principles that kept them together, Jimmy and Karen are committed to strengthening good marriages and bringing hope to hurting husbands and wives.

Lead the Battle

Your church is only as strong as its members, and your members are only as strong as the state of their marriages. How healthy is your church?

Join us in the battle to strengthen and heal the relationships between husbands and wives. Become a Rock Solid Church today.

Gateway Church has contributed generous missions support for MarriageToday since we began. We believe they are addressing one of the main root issues that is facing society today. Not only are they addressing the issue, they are equipping local churches to do the same. I would greatly encourage you to support this vital ministry. Your church will be blessed as you help to send Jimmy and Karen to a world in need.

When it comes to marriage ministry, no one does it like Jimmy and Karen Evans. We have heard countless teachings on marriage and not one compares with their dynamic, down-to-earth and scriptural teachings. We actively utilize and highly recommend all of their resources. We are proud to partner with MarriageToday as they build marriages and, in turn, change lives and families.
